
Title: Dark Tidings II

Author: Unknown

Friends,

It seems that our plan has gone astray. My last message seems to have been intercepted.
None the less our goal is near. The Black Dog Mercenaries have gotten in our way. They are sloppy, and will bring those mentioned dead most likely. I will not have our plans hampered by these twits.

I have spoken to the council on this matter.
We have agreed to extend the bounty previously mentioned. We will offer you ten thousand gold for Arlins head. and one-thousand gold crowns for each of his men. That will be more than adequate compensation to feed your people. Please try to keep their bodies in tact. We will have use for the parts soon.

I was glad to receive your message this morning. I am very pleased at your progress.
I understand that you will not collect upon the bounty until the time is right. For I do not wish our cover to be lifted. I will give you the next three I wish you to capture. I will pay you under the same terms as given for Isilmea, Molly and Eldred. The names are as follows:
Kotare Duke of Blackwind Grishnak of the Orcs

Quinten Malos, librarian of O|S.

It seems this form of communication is vulnerable. This will be my last message until we meet next. Please wait til dark before you gather. Secrecy must be maintained. I look forward to meeting you in three days time.

Embrace the Shadows, K*the rest of the name is blotch and smudged.
